

Youth Loans

OVERVIEW

The U.S. Department of Agriculture's Farm Service Agency (FSA) makes operating loans of up to $5,000 to eligible individual youths ages 10 to 20 to finance income-producing, agriculture-related projects. The project must be of modest size, educational, and initiated, developed and carried out by youths participating in 4-H Clubs, FFA, or a similar organization.

The project must be an organized and supervised program of work. It must be planned and operated with the assistance of the organization advisor, produce sufficient income to repay the loan, and provide the youth with practical business and educational experience in agriculture-related skills.

WHO MAY BORROW

To qualify for a loan, the applicant must:

- Comply with FSA's general eligibility requirements;
- Conduct a modest income-producing project in a supervised program of work.

HOW LOAN FUNDS MAY BE USED

These loans can finance many kinds of income-producing agricultural projects. The loan funds may be used to:

- Buy livestock, seed, equipment and supplies;
- Buy, rent or repair needed tools and equipment;
- Pay operating expenses for the project.

WHAT DETAILS TO KNOW

To apply, the applicant must submit completed plans and budgets signed by the project advisor and parent or guardian along with the FSA application for loan assistance.

These loans:

- Have a maximum loan amount of $5,000 (total principal balance owed at any one time cannot exceed this amount);
- Have an interest rate which is determined periodically, based on the cost of money to the federal government (after the loan is made, the interest rate for that loan will not change);
- Will be secured, in addition to promissory notes, by liens on the products produced for sale and on chattel property, including livestock, equipment and fixtures purchased with loan funds;

- Have a repayment schedule which varies depending on the type of project for which the loan is made (For example, if it involves raising livestock or crops, the loan is paid when th animals or produce are normally sold).
